Why a study about micro-influencers?

Because they make up the fastest-growing and most engaging category within the influencer marketing industry.

Micro-influencers are playing a vital role in influencer marketing's explosive growth and evolution from a rising trend to a permanent, viable and effective marketing strategy and we wanted to hear from them first-hand.

AVERAGE ENGAGEMENT RATE on Instagram and Twitter in 2018

We analyzed the engagement rates of the last 3 campaigns completed by the 100,000 vetted influencers registered on our platform. Results show that micro-influencers generate 7x more engagement than the average generated by all influencers with larger followings.

Why a study about micro-influencers?

Micro-influencers have proven to be highly effective at breaking through the noise, improving brand authenticity, and generating engagement.

All at a much more affordable cost than paying a celebrity or mega-influencer.

2018 Global Micro-Influencer Study

METHODOLOGY

Who We Talked To

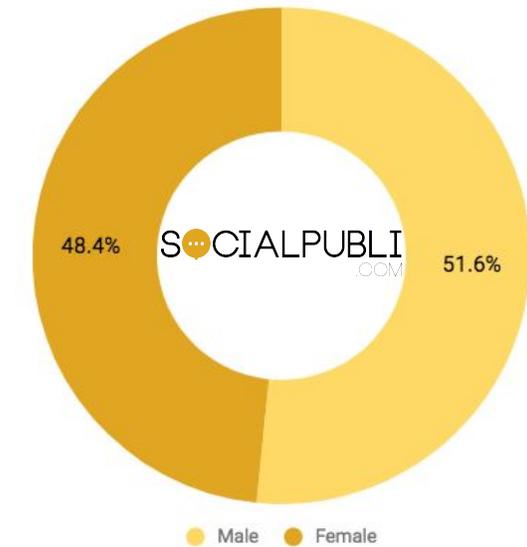

We surveyed 1,000 micro-influencers globally who have participated in at least 3 campaigns with us across key categories, including, Fashion, Beauty, Travel, Food and Fitness.

Micro-influencers were asked about their perspectives on various topics, including, content creation, social media use, compensation, and the best ways to collaborate with brands.

Key Takeaways

Micro-influencers are avid content creators who understand the importance of nurturing their online communities.

Open to sharing what works for them, they are active brand advocates who frequently recommend products and services to their followers.

Instagram is where it's happening. It's both micro-influencers' preferred network and where they generate the most engagement.

Micro-influencers are especially concerned about authenticity and believe in the brands that they endorse.
